

THE GREAT PENNYROYAL FAIR OPENS TO-DAY.

COPY-WRITE EDITORIALS.

All is fair in love and war,
All is fair for all they say,
But the fairest thing you ever saw,
Is the big fair on to-day.

The new tariff will not help the people much until the present stocks of high tariff winter goods are sold.

Leo M. Frank has secured a stay of execution at Atlanta and will not die Friday for the murder of little Mary Phagan.

The Birmingham suffragettes have also voted not to invite Mrs. Pankhurst to Alabama. They are afraid of her methods.

Ty Cobb is again leading the American league batting record, with 391 per cent. Jackson is second 367 and Speake third 366.

John T. Camp, a prominent transfer man of Birmingham, was killed Saturday by a negro employee, in a dispute over 90 cents.

The Nashville fair had 80,000 admissions, only 6,000 less than the Louisville fair, but Nashville had ideal weather while Louisville had rain.

Nathan L. Miller, of Birmingham, is the first candidate to announce for the seat in Congress held by Underwood, who is a candidate for the Senate.

A Covington man named Hatfield threw his hat into a court house ring and had to be held off a lawyer named Graziani, who called his father a "ruffian."

The Senate passed a bill abolishing the Commerce court, but retaining the five judges as additions to the circuit court bench until they resign or retire.

They are telling it on an Illinois girl who went to the seashore for the first time last summer that she declared that she objected to the ocean because it "smells like oysters."

Preston B. McGoodwin, the new minister to Venezuela, appointed from Oklahoma, is a native of Princeton, Ky. He is editor of a daily paper at Oklahoma City.

The football season opened all over the country Saturday. Maine tied Yale 0 to 0, Sewanee beat Chattanooga 28 to 0, Princeton beat Fordham 69 to 0 and Hopkinsville beat Princeton, Ky., 6 to 0.

The "grandfather clause" of the Oklahoma constitution, which grants suffrage to illiterates who were entitled to vote prior to Jan. 1, 1866, is before the Supreme Court for construction.

Thomas Toshesky, a miner at Centralia, Pa., was rescued from a deep shaft in coal mine Saturday after having been imprisoned eight days by a cave-in. He was unhurt but hungry.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood has announced his candidacy for the Senate to succeed the late Jas. F. Johnson, of Alabama. He has served ten terms in the House and is now the majority leader. Rep. representatives Clayton and Heflin are also candidates. The primary will be held next spring.

A bachelor tax is causing much trouble at Griesbach, in the German Empire. The richest bachelor in the town has withdrawn a gift of 50,000 marks to a proposed Women's Bath and other bachelors are preparing to emigrate rather than pay the tax. The principality "catches 'em a com' in and a-gwine," as there is a tax on every marriage license of 62 cents, for the Prince's benefit.

ALL EYES IN WESTERN KY. TURNED TOWARDS THIS CITY

Live Stock Exhibits Will Open
The First Days' Program
of The Fair.

THE SPEED RINGS CLOSE.

Fine Display of Horses Will Be Seen At The Evening
Show.

Saturday was a busy day at the fair grounds. The work of cleaning up, which had been in progress for several days while other work was going on, was about completed.

The beauty of the grounds has been so frequently commented on by the press that everybody who visits the fair today is somewhat prepared to gaze upon the best arranged and prettiest place for holding fairs in the state outside of Louisville.

Transportation over the three railroads entering here had been procured by the transportation committee at one fare plus 25 cents. The Tennessee Central railroad put in a siding last summer and will run a shuttle train to and from the city to the grounds, making two trips an hour, day and night, until the hour for closing. The first train will leave the station at 9:45.

Only round-trip tickets to the grounds will be sold. Each ticket shall cost ten cents, children same price.

This arrangement is the best that anybody could ask and the Tennessee Central officials in this way have shown their liberality and contributed very materially to making the fair a success, for no crowd means no fair.

The City Council Friday night authorized the street committee to have Virginia street sprinkled twice a day, and if necessary it will be sprinkled oftener.

People along the Tennessee Central road as far as Clarksville will be glad to know that a special train will be run each day from Clarksville, leaving there at 8:30 in the morning, arriving here at 9:30. Returning this train will leave here at night at 11 o'clock. This arrangement will suit farmers especially, as they will not be at the trouble and expense of having their horses fed and taken care of here, should they drive through the country.

The committee having in charge the poultry exhibit has concluded to allow fowls to be entered tonight.

Owing to the State Fair at Nashville, the fairs at Paducah, Owensboro and Elkhorn did not close until Saturday the horses and general exhibits to be transported to the Pennyroyal fair did not begin to show up until Sunday.

Some of the local exhibitors as early as Friday began taking steps for their displays. Among the first to do this was the Forbes Mfg. Co., which had secured large space and will exhibit many articles of their own manufacture as well as many of which they have local control.

The Dalton Brick Co. has erected a beautiful miniature brick bungalow on the grounds and will show red brick of their own make as well as the many tinted brick they use in house building, with ornamental shapes for trimming so much in vogue today.

The F. A. Yost Co. commenced arranging for their big exhibit last week. They will show gasoline engines, wheat drills, manure and lime spreaders, buggies, surreys and wagons and every description of farm machinery. They will keep an engine running and will show Laden's dairy machinery of every kind.

Stockholders' Tickets.

Stockholders who are entitled to interest tickets can obtain them at the Planters Bank & Trust Co.

Season Tickets.

Season tickets good for five day shows will cost $2.00 and season tickets for the Horse Shows will cost $1.50. Fair tickets are not good for the Horse Show, as they expire with the close of the day's program.

Boxes.

There are 49 boxes and these will sell for $2.00 a day or night or $12.50 for the entire week, both day or night. Box tickets can be secured at the Giant Insurance Co's office.

Friday School Day.

All school children under 20 years of age, white and colored, city and county or from other counties, will be admitted Friday for the uniform price of 25 cents, which is the price for children under 12 years of age on the other days.

Cattle.

The Herford, Shorthorns and Polled Durhams and Aberdeen Angus cattle will be the first shown. There are many exhibits in each ring and $125 in prizes are offered on each kind.

Sheep will come next with $50 in prizes.

Hogs are divided into Duroc-Jersey, Berkshire and Poland China classes, with $85 on each class. All of these will be full.

The Horse rings will include six rings of harness and saddle horses, mares and colts. The prizes aggregate $275 in these rings and some very fine horseflesh will be seen.

The day's program will conclude with five speed rings on the 1/4 mile track. These are:

- 1—Motor Cycles, $10.
- 2—County Roadster, $25, $15, $10, mile heats.
- 3—Running race, 2 in 3, half-mile heats, $50, $35, $15.
- 4—Pony race, fourth-mile dash, $15, $10, $5.
- 5—Free-for-all trot under 2:25, 2 in 3, five to enter, $50, $35, $15.

NIGHT PROGRAM.

There will be seven rings at the Horse Show to-night as follows:

- 1—Horses suitable for light harness.
- 2—Gaited saddle horses.
- 3—Runabout horses.
- 4—Combined 3 gaited-saddle horses.
- 5—Roadsters.
- 6—Five-gaited horses.
- 7—Heavy harness horses.

When it is said that Nichols, Ray, Alexander, Wall Bros., Wilson Bros. and Barham, well-known horse men, are all here with strings of horses, it will be understood that there will be fine exhibits in every ring. The prizes are from $35 to $50 in each of the rings at night.

The program for tomorrow is equally attractive. It includes Red Poll Cattle, several horse rings and several speed rings in the afternoon, concluding with a slow mule race.

Interest will center largely in the Fair Hall exhibits every day, with a committee of ladies in charge. These embrace a wide variety of exhibits and competition will be close in all the classes.

COMMISSION FOR PARKS

Council Passes Ordinance Providing for Their Government.

MAYOR MEACHAM TO APPOINT

Four Members Who Shall Serve
For Terms of 1 to 2 Years.

The Council met Thursday night with all present except Councilman Dabney, who was ill. The budget, embracing the accounts for two months and the light bill for three months was paid, amounting to $1,300.

Wooldridge & Co., cited to appear before the Council to explain a hauling bill, failed to appear. No action was taken.

An ordinance offered by Mayor Meacham providing for a park commission to have charge of all of the parks in the city was passed by the council. According to the provisions of the ordinance this commission is to be composed of four members appointed by the Mayor, with the Mayor an ex officio member, subject to approval of the council. The city treasurer is to be secretary of the commission. The terms for which the commissioners are appointed shall be two years, the terms of two expiring each year.

This commission shall have charge of the two parks, but can spend no money not appropriated or make contracts for permanent improvements except when authorized by the council. All park funds shall be set aside strictly for such use.

The report of Dr. J. W. Harned, City Health officer, was gratifying, showing that there have been fewer cases of typhoid fever in Hopkinsville during September than has been recorded for the past five years.

Property owners of Fowler avenue were granted permission to set side walks out into the street for a distance of six feet, with a strip for grass. This street is now 45 feet wide and the extra space could well be spared.

An appropriation of $1,500 was made to complete payments for the improvements at Virginia park. This makes a total of $8,500 that has been spent on this park or one half of the amount received from Mr. Latham's bequest.

Councilman Metcalfe was authorized to have Virginia Street sprinkled during the fair and vehicles will be allowed to take one quarter's license for carrying passengers.

John T. Rick is elected Delinquent Tax Collector for 1912 and his bond fixed at $2,500 with monthly settlements. The books show about $6,000 and he is to be allowed 25 per cent. on polls and 12½ per cent. on property.

ADDITIONAL REVENUE NEEDED

Banquet To Be Given and More Strenuous Will Be Put Forth.

Colon, Oct. 4.—The nine years work is finished and the Panama canal is to-day practically complete. At a signal from Capt. Goethals the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans will be let into Gatun lake by means of four huge pipes passing through the Gamboa dike which stands between the lake and the Culebra cut. When the water has reached a level high enough in the Culebra cut to form a cushion against the explosion of many tons of dynamite the Gamboa dike will be blown up and the water will be allowed to flow through the canal, checked only by the various locks at either end. This is expected to take place this week. The dynamite will not be of sufficient strength, however, to clear away the tons of earth and rock composing the Gamboa dike. The waters of the two oceans will play an important part in this final piece of work which the engineers call "child's play" in comparison to the problems they have faced.

When the water has washed its way through the dike the steam dredges, the steel monsters which have done the actual digging of the big ditch, will be called upon for their final task, and within a few days all that composed the Gamboa dike will have been entirely removed from the canal route.

The dredges will make a final trip through the canal searching for any huge rock or mass of earth which may have been overlooked or slipped into the canal. By the time it is completed, which is expected to be Dec. 1, the water in Gatun lake will have reached the required level of eighty-seven feet, and the canal will be ready for the passage of the largest steamship afloat.

In passing from the Atlantic to the Pacific a vessel will enter the approach channel in Limon bay. This channel extends to Gatun, a distance of seven miles. Here have been erected a series of steel locks by which the ships will be raised to a height of eighty-seven feet, or to the level of Gatun lake. The passage for thirty miles is then made at eighty-seven feet above the level of the Atlantic ocean. After passing through the Culebra cut the vessel is lowered thirty and one-half feet into Miraflores lake, which will be about fifty-four and one-half feet above the level of the Pacific ocean.

The fact that a difference existed between the mean levels of the oceans necessitated the building of a lock canal instead of a sea level passage.

The passage through Miraflores lake is about two miles, and the vessel is then lowered in two locks to the level of the Pacific ocean.

The estimated time for towing the largest vessels through the canal is between ten and twelve hours.

Mrs. Eliza Cayce, after a visit to Mrs. Roy Cayce in the country, has returned home.

Enthusiasm ran high at the meeting of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association last Friday night. President R. E. Cooper presided over the meeting and he made a strong talk along progressive lines. Many of the members followed and a general discussion of important matters kindled enthusiasm in many who expressed themselves as favoring more strenuous activity among the members.

One of the most essential things now to be handled is the collection of dues. Things have been allowed to drift along "any old way," it seems, since the resignation of the late secretary. It now devolves upon the new secretary, C. H. Bleich, to take up the tangled threads of affairs and straighten them out. Mr. Bleich comes here from Madisonville highly recommended as an alert business man and everybody expects him to make good. The members believe he will.

Knowing that the Association cannot carry out the plans in view it was the consensus of opinion that more money for special purposes must be raised and the President was requested to appoint a committee for this purpose. He said he would announce the committee at the next meeting.

A banquet may be given soon, but as the Pennyroyal Fair has been the all-absorbing topic for some time, further consideration of the banquet was dismissed until after the fair.

HENRY AND DAVIS

Were Honored By the Grand Lodge K. P.

Col. Jouett Henry, Green H. Champlin, Martin Coleman, John H. Tunks and Lucian H. Davis, who attended the meeting of the State Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias at Lexington, returned home Friday night.

Col. Henry, representative of the Supreme Lodge, was re-elected. The honor conferred upon him was accentuated by the fact that two other prominent members of the order were in the running and one of them arose before the count of ballots was begun and moved that the popular Colonel be declared the unanimous choice of the lodge for the high office.

Mr. Davis, who was Grand Inside Guard, was also honored by being advanced to the next highest office.

Not Empire Coal & Coke Co.

The Kentuckian was in error in stating Saturday that a verdict of $1,250 was rendered against the Empire Coal & Coke Co. in favor of Leon Palmer. The verdict was against the Empire Coal Co., which leases the mines from the above named company.

Pennsylvania women suffragists have announced that they will have nothing to do with Mrs. Pankhurst.

Representative Cordell Hull, of the Fourth Tennessee District, was elected Democratic National Committee man to succeed R. E. L. Mountcastle, deceased.

A bill designating the first Sunday in June as "Fathers' Day" was introduced in the House by Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania. "Father" will probably work as usual on that day.

A military and floral parade witnessed by perhaps 200,000 persons and a ball at the Armory led by Gov. McCreary and Miss Anne Clay McDowell were Thursday's features of Perry Centennial week at Louisville, and constituted the biggest day of the celebration.

ONLY THIS MONTH.

Will our readers have the opportunity to secure the Evansville Courier one year by mail for $2.00, or daily and Sunday $3.50. The chance passes October 31st. Thousands are taking advantage of the October bargain offer. Think of it, a daily newspaper a whole year for only $2.00.—Advertisement.

Inspiration!

There is a lot of poppycock about this thing we call "inspiration." Men do not sit down in trance and arise to find themselves equipped with genius. Achievement means toil and struggle and continuous effort to master small things that eventually shall contribute to the perfect whole.

MOMENTS WORTH LIVING FOR

One Must Have the Soul of a Poet to Appreciate the Rhapsody Here Indulged In.

I was skating on a patch of ice in the park, under a poverty-stricken sky flying a pitiful rag of sunset. Some little muckers were guying a slim, raw-boned Irish girl of fifteen, who circled and darted under their banter with complete unconcern. She was in the fledgling stage, all legs and arms, tall and adorably awkward, with a huge hat full of rusty feathers, thin skirts tucked up above spindling ankles, and a gay aplomb and swing in the body that was ravishing. We caught hands in midflight, and skated for an hour, almost alone and quite silent, while the rag of sunset rotted to pieces. I have had few sensations in life that I would exchange for the warmth of her hand through the ragged glove, and the pathetic curve of the half-formed breast where the back of my wrist touched her body. I came away mystically shaken and elated. It is thus the angels converse. She was something absolutely authentic, new, and inexplicable, something which only nature could mix for the heart's intoxication, a compound of ragamuffin, pal, mistress, nun, sister, harlequin, outcast, and bird of God—with something else bafflingly confused, something ridiculous and frail and savage and tender. With a world offering such recontres, such airy strife and adventures, who would not live a thousand years stone dumb? I would, to think on the shut lid and granite lip of him who has done with the sunset and skating, and has turned away his face from all manner of Irish.—William Vaughn Moody, in the Atlantic.

THAT ONE MOMENT OF LIFE

Her idea of it was not exactly his though both recognized its tragic intensity.

He—Did you ever know a moment when the very air throbbed with emotion?

She—Yes, yes!

He—When your heart felt like a bird fluttering 'neath your hand?

She—Yes, yes!

He (drawing nearer)—When the whole world was centered so close to you that eyes answered eyes?

She (edging away from him and his eyes)—Yes, yes, I have known it—I have—I have!

He (more and more fervently)—And into that moment crowds years and years of suffocating intensity?

She—Yes, yes, and its memory will live forever!

He (makes move to take her in his arms)—And that moment—that moment is—

She—Was—you mean was that day when the score was tied, the bases full, two out and Baker up?

In about ten minutes the doctor pronounced him out of danger.

Uncle Sam as a Solomon.

The departments at Washington are now and then called upon to settle petty questions of the most intimate personal nature. For instance, the treasury department once acted as judge in a dispute between man and wife.

This couple had had a spirited struggle for the possession of several bank notes, each holding fast to the end of the "roll." A ten-dollar bill was torn across the middle, and each contestant carried off one-half of it in triumph. Just here the treasury department was brought into the dispute. It received half of the bill from the wife, with the statement that the other half had been destroyed, and she requested a new bill. In a short time there arrived the second half of the bill from the husband, with a similar statement and request. As the government then had both ends of the bill, it rendered a Solomon-like decision and awarded five dollars to each of the claimants.—Harper's Weekly.

Touched Her Sympathy.

A kind-hearted lady was collecting for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. She paid a series of house-to-house visits, and at one door her knock was answered by a rather stupid-looking servant, says Pearson's Weekly.

The lady explained her errand; that she was collecting small sums for the funds of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, but the girl found this title rather too much of a mouthful. She went upstairs to the nursery, where her mistress was hard at work bathing and dressing half a dozen lively, shouting children, and trying at the same time to coax the recently arrived baby to go to sleep, and announced: "Please'm, there's somebody at the door collectin' for the Society for the Prevention of Children."

The worried mother sent down a willing donation of half a dollar.

Character Told by Laughter.

A French paper has discovered that a person's character is expressed in his manner of laughing. If you laugh in "Ha ha" fashion, you are frank if a man and inconstant and incapable of keeping a secret if a woman. If you laugh "Heh, heh," you are neurotic, melancholy and skeptical. If you adopt a deeper tone and laugh in "Ho, ho's," you are generous, outgoing and good-natured. The proper pitch for the fair sex to laugh in a "He, he," while people who laugh with a "Hoo, hoo" effect should be avoided as hypocritical, scandal-mongering and miserly.

Terrible Train of Troubles.

Like Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fourneir, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before took Cardui, I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patience or courage. Since taking Cardui, I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to, and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui. Advertisement.

The New Wisconsin State Capitol.

The fourth highest dome in the world is that of the new Wisconsin state capitol, with a height from the ground of 269 ft 8 in. without the bronze statue of a woman which will increase it to 287 ft., more than the width of seven city lots. The three domes which are higher are those of St. Peter's cathedral, Rome, 330 ft.; the Duomo at Florence, Italy 310; and the national capitol at Washington 307 ft. The dome on the Wisconsin is more than 104 ft. in diameter, nearly as wide as three city lots, at the base. It is constructed of concrete, reinforced with 2,300 tons of steel, with an exterior wall made of 8,000 tons of white granite. In order to place the main steel girders, each of which weighed 23 tons, it was necessary to erect a square steel tower through the center, with derricks which could be moved from corner. The dome alone will cost $2,500,000, considerably more than one-third the price for the whole building, which is limited to $6,000,000. A page view of the building is a feature of the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

A Gentle and Effective Laxative.

A mild, gentle and effective laxative is what people demand when suffering from constipation. Thousands swear by Dr. King's New Life Pills. A bad back makes you gloomy.
Can't be happy with continua beckache.

The aches and pains of a bad back
Are frequently due to weak kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are recom mended for weak kidneys.

So Hopkinsville citizens testify.

Miss L. A. Hester, Fifteenth and Clay streets, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "The pain in my back, caused by disorderly kidneys, was so severe some days that I often felt like lying down. If I walked any distance or exerted myself in any way, I was troubled more. If I caught cold I was miserable. In the morning, I felt stiff and sore and often found it difficult to dress. Kidney weak ness bothered me. I doctored, but found little relief. Finally, Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got a box. They removed the pains in my back and corrected
the kidney weakness."

Flemings Built Up English Town.
Rochdale, England, laid the foun

that the crown was not robbed of its

NOT WEDDED TO THE TRUTH

Descendants of the Original Ananias
Evidently Still Flourish in Prov ince of China.

The honesty and frankness of the Chinese has often been matter for travelers' tales; but, according to Frank Wallace, author of "The Big Game of Central and Western China," it is only the inhabitants of the coast provinces who are distinguished for veracity, says the New York Post.
In the course of his excursion to the Gobi desert to supply tannin and other rare mammals to the British museum,
he suffered much inconvenience and a few misfortunes from the inabil ity of the natives to tell the unvar nished truth.

Two incidents he recounted have the saving grace of humor. He came once upon a region, where pheasants were plentiful, and if he had had dogs, he might have enjoyed first-rate cov er shooting. When he questioned his guides as to their numbers, a certain celebrated Ananias set about recount ing the details of a ride where birds were plentiful.

"Suddenly," he declared, "my horse shied. My gun was slung on my back.
Both barrels went off. I looked around and there were three dead pheasants
in the road!"

It was this same man who, one day
when the conversation turned on cele brated travelers, saw a chance too good to be missed. Marco Polo's name had just been mentioned.

"Marco Polo," said the man in a casual manner, flicking off the end of his cigar. "Oh, yes, my old father was his guide. A nice man. He came from Russia. How old was he? Well, I never saw him myself; it was be fore my time. About forty-five, I should say. He had a grand horse he brought with him all the way from his own country. He gave it to my father, but the poor beast died from grief when the old man pegged out."

It would seem that this was just the sort of person on whom Marco Polo, when he traveled in that part of the world, actually depended for in formation.

UPSET THE QUIET OLD TOWN

Indignant Bees, Loose on Philadelphia
Streets, Made Citizens Forget
Their Dignity.

A winged peril descended on shore
ward hours crowd at the Market street ferries, Philadelphia, recently, sending men, women and children scurrying for safety. Some of them weren't quick enough, and as a conse quence, spent a day nursing, on various parts of the anatomy, stings of peev'd and indignant bees.

It happened when a box containing a hive of forty thousand bees fell from an express wagon at the ferry.
The box, which was consigned to a man in Swedesboro, N. J., broke as it fell, and the hive roiled out. Peeved at the indignities heaped upon them, two thousand of the bees swarmed out, save for the buzzing swarm.

Frantic messages were sent to the company which shipped the bees and a representative of the firm hurried to the place. He nailed up the box and sent it on its way, minus several hundred honey gatherers.

Composer's Moods.

Those who imagine that a creative artist can, through the medium of his art, express his feelings at the moment when he is moved, make the greatest mistake. Emotions, sad or joyful, can only be expressed retro spectively, so to speak. Without any special reason for rejoicing, I may be moved by the same cheerful creative mood, and, vice versa, a work com posed amid the happiest surround ings may be touched with dark and gloomy colors.—Tschalkowski.

UPHELD RIGHTS OF DONKEY

French Authorities Refused to Curtail Privileges Enjoyed by Famous Animal.

At Brest, the most important na tional center of France with the exception of Toulon, there is an institution founded by the Empress Eu genie which takes charge of the daughters of sailors, firemen and other employees of the navy and edu cates them at the government's ex pense, says an exchange. The head of the institution is the wife of the prefect maritime.

Besides a few sisters of charity and an ancient guardian the institution has a very important function in the "person" of Ulysses, a donkey of considerable age and respectability in the neighborhood. The principle duty of Ulysses is to be driven downtown twice a day and carry back the provisions of the institution.
Everyone in town knows the donkey with the exception of a corporal of the guard at the arsenal who arrived only recently in Brest.
He has cause now to know the don key whenever he sees the animal.

By an old decree the donkey is permitted legally to enter the arse nal yard, where there is plenty of green pasture. A day or two ago the new corporal saw one of the old members of the guard leading the donkey into the pasture. He remon strated with the guard, who replied:
"It is the donkey of the empress."

"The empress!" said the corporal, confused; "but we are in a republic.
There is no longer an empress in France."

Then it was explained that an an cient decree gave the donkey per mission to graze in the promised land. A general search for the of ficial paper was begun. Finally a yellow document was brought to light bearing the date of 1882, giving Ulysses the right to enter the arse nal grounds and sojourn there.
That day he made a triumphant en try into his feeding ground.

TOADS KILL BOLL WEEVILS

Hope of Mississippi Planters in War
Constantly Waged on Cotton Destroyers.

Lee Hamilton, a Lauderdale county farmer, has directed atten tion to the lowly little toad as the farmer's hope in his battle with the boll weevil, and the toad may here after be looked upon with more favor than ever before in his history.

Mr. Hamilton states that he found a couple of the toads busily en gaged feeding at the end of a cotton room. Being curious to know what they were eating, he "operated" on them and found in one of them 70 boll weevils, in the other 100 of the insect pests. This is as many as the farmer would find in a day's hunt, and proves very conclusively, if Mr. Hamilton's story be true, that the toad is a valuable little fellow and that they should be protected by law, just as are insectivorous birds.

It has long been known that toads are valuable adjuncts to any garden or truck patch and there is at least one gardener in Jackson who catches every toad he finds and care fully deposits him in his garden.
That is one of the secrets of his success and one of the reasons why he has plenty of good vegetables when his neighbors have none. This gardener declares that toads de stroy thousands of insects that are injurious to his plants, and he gives them every possible protection—leaving piles of grass and trash and wide boards in out-of-the-way places for them to hide under by day.—

LITTLE RHODY'S GOOD WORK

Statement Made That Glory of Oliver Hazard Perry's Victory Belongs to That State.

The celebration of Perry's victory on Lake Erie recalls that the northwest was not only settled very largely by emigration from the New England states, but that those great and populous states were very probably saved to the union in the second war with England by the enterprise and valor of New England sailors, the Boston Herald observes.

Oliver Hazard Perry, then a commander in the navy and much discontented because the duties assigned to him offered no opportunity for proving his mettle, was a Rhode Islander in charge of a fleet of gunboats guarding Narragansett bay in the winter of 1812-13.

Possessed, he said, "by an ardent desire to meet the enemies of his country," he applied for service on the lakes. On the very day that the order came for his transfer to Lake Erie he sent forward fifty men, the second day he sent fifty more, another party started on the long journey the following day, and Perry himself started on February 22, taking with him the boy of his famous painting, his brother, aged twelve years. The wilderness trip was a hard and tedious one, and the lake was reached on March 27. All the men who had been under his orders in Rhode Island had volunteered for the service, so attached to him were they.

There is good reason to consider the operations that followed on Lake Erie as part of the history of Rhode Island. The interruption of commerce by the war had thrown many captains, mates and seamen out of employment, and many of them had taken service with Perry on the Narragansett flotilla. Thus it came about that Rhode Island had in the battle of Lake Erie not only Perry himself, but four of the nine commanders, a majority of the sailing masters and mates, a large number of the remaining officers and a great many of the sailors, besides the men who superintended the rigging and arming of the fleet.

The centenary celebration, therefore, is a tribute to the prowess of a New England state. It was said years ago by a historian that there never was an expedition of importance to the country which was made up so largely of officers and men from a single state.

DISEASES CURED BY RESTING

For Active Tuberculosis Especially, Repose in Bed is Most Powerful Remedial Agent.

An eminent English scientist declares that in both the plant and animal kingdoms rest is essential to growth. In infancy development is in its highest state of activity, and the healthy infant passes the greatest portion of its life in a state of rest and sleep.

Reprise is but the repetition of growth and for it rest is just as necessary as an injury to limbs when rest is obtained by splints, bandages, etc. In the case of the heart and lungs rest can be got only by resting the whole body in the recumbent position. Rest in bed is the most powerful curative agent in the treatment of active tuberculosis.

One or two months in bed, he says, are necessary in the beginning of treatment of all cases. If the disease is very active the patient should be fed by a nurse and treated as in typhoid fever. Bed treatment should be continued until the temperature and pulse have both been normal for some time and the weight is nearly normal. The rest treatment of tuberculosis has been attended with pleasing results.

Thick.
Attorney General McReynolds said of an unwise charity:

"Such a charity, sustaining the shiftless at the expense of the thrifty, reminds me of Farmer Brown's hired man, John."

"John's a good feller," said Farmer Brown, "but a bit thick—bit thick."

"I'll tell you what John's like. I sent him out one morning to thump the onion patch—it was a fine patch, but overcrowded. He worked a day or two on the job, and then I went to see what he'd been doing."

"Well, sir, I found that he'd pulled out all the biggest onions and heaved them away, leaving only the smallest, meanest plants in each row. I asked him what in tarnation he meant by such work, and he said he wanted to give the little fellers a chance—the big ones had crowded them out and they couldn't grow."

"Yes, John's a bit thick—a bit thick."

Of Bar Room Nationality.

Alderman John Koerner is rapidly coming forth as the real wit in the city hall, as those who have attended common council meetings will testify. During a discussion the other day, one of the aldermen demanded the nationality of one of the city officials.

"On his mother's side, the family is Scotch, so I suppose he's half Scotch," began Alderman E. A. Wittig. "As for the other half—"

"Seltzer, I suppose," finished up Alderman Koerner.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Quite the Contrary.
"Well, did Bibbles enjoy his fishing trip?"

"Yes. He says he had a corking good time."

"Umph! I know Bibbles. He means he had an un corking good time."

PAID FOR WITH HUMAN LIFE

Men's Many Conquests in Various Fields of Struggle Have Always Been Costly.

It would be difficult to decide in what field of struggle the indomitable soul of man finds its greatest expression of the courage that is in it. In every age the spirit of adventure has spurred man to the point of holding up very lightly, where high achievement was possible. In the experimental stage of the submarine and the aeroplane hundreds of lives have been sacrificed; but every loss has brought success one step nearer than before. And the world has always been willing to pay for its triumphs. In aviation hundreds have perished in attempts at long-distance flight, and now we have the news of the wonderful achievement of Brindajon De Moulinas, a French aeronaut who, on July 2, completed an aerial journey of 3,100 miles, from Paris to St. Petersburg and back, being the longest voyage thus far recorded. This conqueror of the air is a mero lad of twenty-one. Part of the time he was traveling at 110 miles an hour, and for a short distance he attained a speed of 140 miles per hour. Traveling at a great height over the Baltic sea, he was seriously confused by mistaking a group of islands for dancing and vanishing clouds, but his nerve of steel kept him from losing his head, which doubtless is the reason why so many aeronauts suddenly "go to pieces" and perish. His wonderful adventure will doubtless stimulate others to still more daring attempts, involving new sacrifice of lives laid on the altar of aerial conquest.

PITY WASTED ON THE TOAD

Philosopher Advances Many Reasons Why Small Creature Is Not In Need of Sympathy.

"I have lately read several bits of good writing in defense of the toad," calmly stated Stanley Livingston Mutchaw, the amateur philosopher. "But while I do not wish to appear hypocritical, or anything of the kind, I beg to say that His Honor the Toad, as I see him, needs little defense. By summer visitors from the city strolling along the gooseberry vine he is often mistaken for a well-filled pocketbook, and it is certainly quite a nice thing to look like ready money. The toad cannot sing and never attempts to, which is greatly to his credit. He worries not at all about next winter's gas shortage, but retires in the fall into the bosom of a sand bank and there lies as dormant as a doormat while the wild wyndes blow and the driven shows drive. Indeed, you can bury him in the middle of a solid rock in the time of Pharaoh and crack him out on the Fourth of July, 1914, and find him in perfect order, physically and mentally. He is built on the architectural style of the average alderman, than whom there is nobody better qualified to take care of himself in emergencies; and he goes the politician one better, for while they both run largely to abdomen, the toad merely sits meditatively and rests his stomach on the ground whenever it becomes a wearisome burden, and the alderman can't. To the thoughtful the toad would seem to be more an object for envy than pity."—Kansas City Star.

"Daisy" Well Named. The Latin name of the daisy comes from a word meaning "pretty," and all will agree that it is well named. Our English word daisy is really "day's eye," and that is what it was called many hundred years ago.

Like the dandelion, each of its flowers is made up of a number of little ones, the tiny golden "disk flowers" in the center and the long white "ray flowers" around them. Daisies growing on the prairies of Kentucky to Texas have violet or purple rays.

To this same big family or "order" belong the asters, robin's plantain, goldenrod, dahlia, boneset and many other common but beautiful wild flowers which we all know so well.

If we look at the flowers in the yellow center of a daisy through a microscope we shall find that each is shaped like a little bell and has pointed teeth on its edge.

He Should Worry.

At least one Detroit is possessed of a philosophical turn of mind that should send him through life content with his lot, remarks the Free Press of that city. Recently he had the misfortune to break an arm while cranking his automobile. A few days later a friend encountered him on the street and started to sympathize with him because of his trouble. The man with a broken arm sat up in his seat and eyed his friend closely.

"Why should I worry?" he inquired.

"Your accident," said the astonished sympathizer.

"Say," confided the injured one, "I haven't any holler coming on that score. Do you know, just a few days before I broke my arm I took out an accident policy that pays me $25 a week. I hire a chauffeur now for $15. That leaves me $10 every week with which to buy gasoline for the car. Not so bad, eh?"

Such Is Life.

"A newspaper dispatch states that a married woman with a family was struck by a train and when she opened her eyes she thought she was a young girl again."

"I hope that dispatch won't be wide read."

"Why not?"

"It may be necessary to hire guards to keep married women off railroad tracks."

SOME FOG.

"I suppose you don't get much fog over here," remarked the smartly dressed young man who had been talking of London fog.

"Wall," replied the old salt, "we do get a bit of a fog now an' then. I mind last summer I was shinglin' that barn ye see over there on the point. I had just used up what I had figured would do both sides of the roof and was calculatin' to crawl back to the ladder when the fog lifted and I dropped plumb into the middle of the harbor. There I had gone and shingled 'bout a hundred feet of that blamed fog."—Woman's Home Companion.

HOW ABOUT YOUR VOICE?

It may be perhaps because talking is the most common thing in the world that so little attention is paid to the voice—its control and cultivation for ordinary conversational purposes.

And yet, strangely enough, the charm of a well-modulated voice, held in perfect control and used with regard for various topics and differing emotions, is one of the most attractive and desirable features.

What can be more discordant than a coarse and fugitive voice considered along with an otherwise charming woman? It spoils the whole picture.

PART OF THE DIAGNOSIS.

"So," said the man from Mars, who was making a sightseeing trip on this planet, "that is what they call an alienist."

"Yes," replied the bureau of information man. "He can inform you whether you are insane or not."

"How does he tell?"

"By the amount of discretion and discernment you show in discussing the value of his distinguished services."

HIS METHOD OF LIVELIHOOD

New Jersey Man Catches All Sorts of Bait for Black Bass to Sell to Fishermen.

Standing on the towpath looking intently down into the water of the old Morris canal, in a stretch of it in Morris county, N. J., was a man whose right hand presently shot down suddenly to snap up something out of the water, which he quickly transferred to a curious little box about a foot square he had in his other hand.

A pedestrian on the towpath who had wondered what all this meant saw when he had come near that the box had wire screens for sides. Just now there were in the box a dozen or two spring toads, a species of frog found around springs and in marshy places and also called the old-fashioned tobacco toad and the leopard frog. It was a spring toad that the man had suddenly snapped up out of the water and put into the box a moment before.

The pedestrian learned that the frog catcher makes a business of catching these frogs to sell as bait for black bass to fishermen, and he had caught 480 on that day, using no net, catching them with his hands alone.

This man catches also for bait hell-gametes, crawfish and grasshoppers. He also hunts bullfrogs for their hind legs. A license is required to catch bullfrogs in Morris and Passaic counties. Spring toads for bait he ships to neighboring fishing localities in kegs, loosely packed in wet grass. For fifteen years he has been following the business of catching black bass bait, working at it regularly from May to October.

OLD QUESTION HERE AGAIN

English Author This Time Avers That Women Usually Place Affections Wrongly.

Does a woman—every woman—love a rake? An English author says so. He says this is the reason men wear their hats on one side. A bad man, he asserts, is a good woman's harmless adventure.

"It is like playing with fire. She doesn't want to be scorched, but it's rather amusing to go as near the flame as possible. Besides—and this always mollifies her conscience—she may succeed in making him better.

"Women have quite a pathetic belief in the reformation of the man they happen to be in love with," he says. "They never realize that every one of us is what the beloved desires us to be as long as we are in love with the beloved. It is only when the novelty of the emotion wears thin that we return to type. That is why so many married people look so sad."

"Sometimes I fancy that every woman has once to waste her devotion over a bad object in order later on to appreciate a good one when it comes her way, and incidentally to become better herself."

"The way to perfection is a complicated business, leading through the strangest, darkest and most mysterious of alleys."

"Sometimes, indeed, we have to pass through filth in order to reach the light. O, if only the good people realized that!"

TRADE IN LICORICE ROOT.

Thousands of tons of licorice root, an article that by the natives generally is esteemed a pest and worse than worthless, are annually gathered in Turkey for exportation to America for use in the manufacture of chewing and smoking tobacco as well as for flavoring confectionery and beer. The principal collecting stations are Bagdad, Alexandretta and Sinyrna, at which places the exporters maintain offices, hydraulic presses and warehouses. The business is largely controlled by an American concern.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

Dugald was ill, and his friend Donald took a bottle of whisky to him. Donald gave the invalid one glass and said:

"You'll get another one in the mornin'."

About five minutes elapsed, and then Dugald suddenly exclaimed:

"Ye'd better let mem ha the other noo, Donald; he hear o' me, mony sudden deaths nooadays."—Houston Chronicle.

DRASTIC MEASURES.

Younglove—Well, let's make sure you begin spanking, and I'll go for the doctor.—Puck.

VICTIMS OF IVY POISONING

Physician Refuses to Pity Those Who Suffer From This Most Annoying Affliction.

"I think I have had more cases of ivy poisoning this spring and summer than in any five years of my practice," said the physician as he chatted with the druggist.

"In which experience mine just about tallies with yours, now that I come to think about it," replied the druggist. "There have been a lot of people drift in here and want to know what is a remedy for ivy poisoning. There has always been about the same story—motor party, wild flowers, ivy poison. What's the reason?"

"Two good ones, probably. Scarcity of wild flowers in the first place, owing to the vandalism that wants all it can see each season and so decreased the supply and made those that remain less easily accessible. Poking about in the dark spots has made the searchers for the flowers rub again the ivy. The other reason is that the unusual weather of the spring has made ivy more virulent than usual."

"Strikes me as a sort of retributive justice. Most of the people who get into the woods become vandals when they gather wild flowers—pull them up by the roots, lop off branches so as to kill a bush or tree and never think that nature cannot reproduce unless something is left to reproduce with. Between you and me, most of them deserve all the ivy poisoning they get."

NOW THEY DON'T SPEAK

Clara—I always said I'd never marry a man who drank, but in Dick's case I don't know what to do. What do you think?

Edith—Don't do it. Dick's got troubles enough now.

GERMAN RED TAPE.

A "red tape" comedy has been enacted at Leipzig, Germany, where the Zeppelin passenger airship Sachsen is stationed. Dr. Eckener, Count Zeppelin's right-hand man, who has made over 450 aerial voyages, was about to steer the Sachsen on a trip when the police prohibited the voyage because he could not produce an official pilot's certificate. The incident is the more amusing because Dr. Eckener is one of the three men in Germany who are able to grant airship pilots' certificates. He could have made one out for himself on the spot, but preferred to telegraph to the Berlin officials. They telegraphed in reply that he had a certificate. The police refused to accept this evidence, as "a telegram is not a document."

DOUCHE FOR A PEDANT.

Prof. Thomas R. Lounsbury of Yale is a foe to the purist and the pedant, as his brilliant essays show. He who insists on saying "Tomorrow will be Thursday" will find no champion in Professor Lounsbury.

One a New England vacation the professor gazing out across the lake one gray and sultry afternoon, remarked:

"It looks like rain."

A pedant was rocking in a rocking chair near by.

"What looks like rain, professor?" he chuckled. "Ha, ha! I've got you there! What looks like rain?"

"Water," Professor Lounsbury answered coldly.

NO USE FOR IT WHATEVER.

In one of his Labor day addresses D. L. Gould, head of the curtain operatives of American, said of a sermon preached by a bishop that advocated humility, resignation, respect for our superiors, etc.:

"I don't believe in the resigned spirit. I believe in discontent. I advocate a constant struggle to make bad things better."

"They tell us—'sweet are the uses of adversity,' but few are they. I answer who have any use for it."

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

We begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inspiring story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

OLD QUESTION TO THE FRONT

Just How Much Woman Should Spend on Dress Seems as Much of a Puzzle as Ever.

A Parisian woman ran up a bill in one year amounting to $2,750 for dresses and furs. Her husband was sick. He stated that his flat cost him $900 a year, therefore credit to his wife for over $2,000 was unreasonable.
The court decided that a married woman cannot spend in dress more than the amount of the rent paid for the joint home of husband and wife without laying herself open to a charge of extravagance, and the court reduced the bill to $900. (There is a saying that the rent should not exceed one-fourth of the income.)

The scene now opens in the court of chancery, Jersey City. Vice Chancellor Garrison stated there that the utmost extent to which a man could be asked to go in supplying his wife with "outer clothing" was as follows:
Suits, $20; coat, $18; pair of shoes, $4; one pair of corsets, $1." It is common, the court knows, for women to spend $75 or $100 for a suit with which to go to bridge parties and cause their sisters to turn green with envy. But it is no part of a husband's duty to provide means of causing other women unhappiness.

I have seen women in $18 coats which looked fine on them. There isn't a married man in the world who doesn't know that for $1 corsets can be bought which will set off a woman's figure most engagingly." The report of that case includes the statement that Vice Chancellor Garrison's wife is "one of the handsomest and best dressed women of all Hudson country."

WELCOME COMING OF LOCUST

Sudanese Consider Insects, Elsewhere Regarded as Pests, as a Most Palatable Food.

The latest advices from Khartum,
in the Sudan, state that the usual ditches have been dug in all directions in anticipation of the summer rains, which, however, have as yet not put in an appearance. In the meantime these ditches are having their uses, for a plague of locusts has set in. Immense swarms have for days been passing over the city.

Locusts of course do a vast amount of damage to the fields. They multiply most rapidly and wherever they settle they devour every vestige of green and leave the land bare. The Sudanese are waging a vigorous campaign against them and their zeal is whetted by the fact that locusts constitute for them a very palatable dish.
These insects are usually caught by the "Cyprus system," which consists in digging trenches and erecting on their farther side tin screens against
which they dash and kill themselves,
eventually falling into the trenches.

It is not thought that this invasion
will reach Egypt. The last time that country was visited by locusts was
in 1904, when no fewer than 1,000,
000,000 egg masses were destroyed.
The work was carried out by over 240,000 men and cost the government
close on $50,000, which was in all conscience a cheap riddance of the plague seeing that it might quite easily
have ruined the entire cotton crop,
not to mention crops of other summer products.

Lime Salts and Health.
The Berliner Klinische Wochenschrift,
in an article on the influence of lime salts on the constitution and health, speaks of some physicians who are coming more and more to believe that the use of calcium (lime) in various forms is the keystone of individual hygiene. Reinhardt, a German physician, quoted, says:
"Neurasthenic, overworked and physically depressed persons are as rapidly healed by the chloride of calcium as by the chloride of sodium." Many of these insects are usually caught by
the "Cyprus system," which consists
in digging trenches and erecting on
their farther side tin screens against
which they dash and kill themselves,
eventually falling into the trenches.

It is not thought that this invasion
will reach Egypt. The last time that country was visited by locusts was
in 1904, when no fewer than 1,000,
000,000 egg masses were destroyed.
The work was carried out by over
240,000 men and cost the government
close on $50,000, which was in all
conscience a cheap riddance of the
plague seeing that it might quite easily
have ruined the entire cotton crop,
not to mention crops of other summer products.

Overwhelmed With Work.

Along in the '60s Pat Casey pushed a wheelbarrow across the plains from St. Joseph, Mo., to Georgetown, Colo., shortly after that he "struck it rich;"
in fact, he was credited with having more wealth than anyone else in Colorado.
A man of great shrewdness and ability, he was exceedingly sensitive over his inability to read or write.
One day an old timer met him with:
"How are you getting along, Pat?"

"Go 'way from me, now," said Pat, genially, "me head's hursty' wid business. It takes two lid pencils a day to do me wurruk."—Everybody's Maga-

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L.
Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui.
I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time.
You can absolutely rely upon it.
Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today.
